

Grant No.9130

Papua New Guinea: Extending the Socioeconomic Benefits of an Improved Road Network to Roadside Communities

(financed by the Japan Fund for Poverty Reduction)

Component A: Preparation, Rehabilitation, and Maintenance of Rural Feeder Roads and Community Infrastructure

Cost: 1,316,513 US$

Component B: Skills Development for Rural Poor and Vulnerable Populations

Cost: 231,794 US$

Component C: Community Awareness-Building and Behavior Changes regarding Health Issues in Roadside Communities

Cost: 235,836 US$

Component D: Gender-Responsive Transportation

Cost: 215,857 US$

Total Cost: 2,000,000 US$ (exclusive of taxes and duties)

Project area: Southern Highland Province and Enga Province

Project period: 2009 - 2012